

Questions to ask when visiting a nursery before you chose to send your child

Here are some questions you might want to ask. You will think of other things that are important to you and your family.

- How many children will be in my child's key group?
- How will information about my child's needs be shared with the staff?
- How does the setting arrange extra support for children who need it?
- How will I be involved in planning for my child's needs and reviewing his or her progress?
- How will my child be helped to settle in and to make friends?
- How will the other children be helped to understand my child's needs?
- How will I be updated about what is happening?
- How does the setting support the personal, social and emotional development of all children?
- How will the setting include my child in all activities?
- How soon will a place be available?
