The Girl Effect and The Boy Effect

We offer a safe and welcoming environment with no expectations. Each weekly session focuses on helping young people build confidence, understand their emotions, and develop positive life skills.

Through creative activities such as journaling, music, yoga, fitness, sound therapy, breathwork sessions and self-reflection, participants explore topics including self-identity, friendships, healthy relationships, managing pressure and the power of words.

These sessions are designed to give young people a safe space to talk, grow and connect with others while building resilience and confidence for the future.

A Big Egg

For Jack and his sister Molly, an egg is much more than a simple shell - it's a tiny world full of secrets. A miracle waiting to happen. Together, they embark on a magical journey to discover how life begins and grows, sparking wonder, laughter, and unforgettable moments for the whole family. Inspired by Steven Lee's beloved picture book, A Big Egg bursts to life on stage with a captivating blend of live action, playful puppetry, and stunning animation. This musical invites audiences to explore the miracle of new life and the joy of discovery.

Saturday Town | Photography Exhibition

Since 2013 Casey Orr has travelled the UK, photographing young people in towns and cities on Saturday afternoons, documenting changing society as seen through youth culture, fashion, tribes and identity. The pop-up portrait studio has worked with hundreds of young people, spanning a decade of major changes in culture, style and diverse identities – as well as the ways we use our public spaces.

Age: Suitable for all ages
Dates: Tuesday-Sunday, 7th March – 4th May 2026

Youth Artists Holiday Clubs

Designed especially for creative 7- to 11-year-olds, our new Herbert Art Gallery Holiday Club offers a full day of hands-on arts and crafts inspired by our current exhibitions.

This Easter, we are drawing inspiration from our Stories That Made Us living history exhibition, exploring the powerful themes of Roots, Resilience, and Representation through exciting artistic activities led by professional artists.

Your young creators will work alongside artist Julia Snowdon to construct an impressive 80s sculpture, discovering how art can tell stories about our past and present. They'll also collaborate with storyteller Amy Wilde to create shadow puppets and bring narratives to life, exploring how stories shape our understanding of heritage and identity.

Through these immersive art masterclasses, children will engage with history, culture, and creativity while developing their artistic skills in the inspiring gallery environment. Each activity is designed to help young artists discover how art can express identity, celebrate resilience, and honour our diverse roots.

Dedicated to our 7-11-year-olds, our Herbert Holiday Kids Clubs invite those who are curious about The Arts and are looking for a whole-day experience of getting hands-on with specialised Art activities. A hot lunches, snacks and refreshments will be provided throughout the day.

Creative Sculptures with Artist Julia Snowdon

Join artist Julia Snowdon to explore the Stories That Made Us and to create your very own sculpture that represents the stories that made you.

For the Easter Half Term Holiday Club, you will have the opportunity to take a tour around Stories That Made Us, where you will explore the themes of Roots, Resilience, and Representation. You will spend time in Hardish Virk's 80s-bedroom installation exploring the artefacts that represent him to inspire your sculpture.

In the Learning Space, we will think about what your roots are, the ways that you represent yourself, and what makes you resilient. Taking inspiration from these themes, we will create an 80s-style bedroom sculpture using clay, papier-mâché, junk modelling materials, neon paints, and sparkles.

Shadow Story Puppets with Artist Amy Wilde

Join artist Amy Wilde in this special shadow puppet kids club session exploring South Asian shadow puppetry inspired by Stories That Made Us—an exhibition celebrating the journeys, resilience, and contributions of South Asian families who have made Coventry home.

Discover the materials, techniques, and theatrics of this traditional art form as you design and make puppet characters. Each child will have the opportunity to create puppets and invent their own stories to perform using their handmade creations.

Age: For ages 7-11 years

Dates: Thursday 2nd April and Thursday 9th April 2026

Times: 9am-4pm

Cost: £15 per person per session price includes refreshments and admission to the museum.

Website: <https://www.theherbert.org/whats-on/1919/youth-artists-holiday-clubs>

Crafting Stories: Celebrate Heritage, Family and Community Through Art

This Easter, explore the Stories That Made Us exhibition through hands-on family crafts.

Discover what makes each of us unique as we create art inspired by themes of family, heritage, belonging, and community. We will use different materials and recyclable resources to build story homes, design message banners, and create mixed-media portraits to take home and treasure.

The exhibition showcases a South Asian family's journey in Coventry from 1968 to 2010, featuring room settings filled with photographs, music, books, posters, and personal treasures from the Virk Collection. These objects tell powerful stories about where we come from, who we are, and the communities we build together.

Daily Activities:

Tuesday 31 March & Wednesday 1 April | Story Homes

Build a miniature model home that tells your family's story. Create rooms inspired by your past, present, or dreams for the future. Use lollipop sticks, matchsticks, dowels, and glue to construct your unique home. Then, decorate the outside using colourful markers and paper to personalise your family's memories and capture memorable moments.

Thursday 2 & Friday 3 April | Banner Making

Design a mini banner with a positive message that matters to you. Choose words of kindness, hope, or change that you'd like to share with your community. Using fabric, colourful materials, and embellishments, create a beautiful banner to display proudly in your window at home. Discover how art can spread important messages in gentle, creative ways.

Monday 6, Tuesday 7, Wednesday 8, April | Samosa Pack Prints

Take inspiration from the humble samosa packet that tells South Asian stories. Food plays a vital role in bringing communities and families together through shared meals and cherished traditions. Learn the process of making your own samosa packet out of paper, then use mono-printing techniques to express your messages and drawings. Take home a samosa recipe to try with your family.

Thursday 9 & Friday 10 | Moving Stories

Discover this joyful South Asian art tradition where drivers turn everyday vehicles into moving galleries with spectacular displays of creativity! Truck art combines beautiful patterns, cheerful messages, and folklore symbols to celebrate culture and stories. Using bright pens and decorative materials, transform your cardboard truck with vibrant eagles, colourful kites, playful animals, and fun catchphrases.

Sky Garden: An Easter Family Fun Day!

This Easter, give your family a sky-sized adventure. Step into a giant open-air studio of imagination, where stories are waiting to be told! For a few magical hours, take the time to slow down and make precious memories.

Lie back. Look up. The adventure is overhead!

Cloud Gazing

Mini explorers, we're taking our imaginations to the skies and becoming amazing cloud spotters!

Bring a picnic blanket or sink into our giant bean bags and gaze into the skies. What can you see drifting across the sky?

A giant bunny?!

A floating forest?!

A ship sailing into the big blue?!

As the clouds shift and stretch, families explore:

- The science of how clouds form
- How weather shapes our world
- The colours and moods of the sky
- A powerful connection to nature and the world around us

No two skies are ever the same. Every family leaves with a different story.

Cloudscapes: An Immersive Sky Story Experience

As you relax together, pop on your headphones and drift into Cloudscapes, a beautifully crafted audio journey by artist Lorna Rees, of Gobbledegook Theatre. Get ready for adventure blending storytelling, sky science and dreamy thoughts, designed to spark curious minds while you gaze into the open sky and our ever-changing visual stage.

You are not just watching the clouds. You are travelling through them.

"A wonderful calming contemplative experience... thank you for making the first Festival of the Sky so special!" –Festival of the Sky

Visit the Cloud Library

The magical Cloud Library has travelled far and wide collecting sky stories. Peek inside the cosy travelling hideaway filled with books, photographs, sky science and documented dreamy adventures! A reflective space to learn and discuss your cloud discoveries and experiences.

From Good Friday to Easter Monday, you'll get the chance to meet Cloudscapes artist, Lorna Rees, as she joins us to enhance your Cloudscapes experience! Friday 3 – Monday 6 April only.

“...Lorna Rees has given us a marvellous gift. The stories she tells are beguiling and beautifully woven together, and the whole experience is delightful.” – Total Theatre magazine

Make a Day of It

Complete your Sky garden Day Out with:

- Enhance your visit with a Sky to Soil Activity Sheet (details coming soon)
- A Cloud Spotters treat at Medicine Bakery Café
- Nature-inspired keepsakes from the BBG Garden Shop
- Explore the Gardens in Spring bloom and the Victorian Glasshouses
- Visit the Gardens Adventure playgrounds

West Midland Safari Park

Bewdley, Worcestershire DY12 1LF

Days Out

A WILD EASTER AWAITS AS NATIVE NATURE TAKES CENTRE STAGE AT SAFARI PARK...

Families are invited to celebrate the wonders of British wildlife this Easter, as West Midlands Safari Park unveils a nature-inspired event, packed with interactive activities, live entertainment and brand-new characters.

Running from 28 March to 12 April 2026, guests can take part in the celebrations, which include an egg hunt trail, competitions, a new show and a chance to get creative with some Easter arts and crafts.

Taking the spotlight, this year are new characters, Petal and Professor Pollen – a spectacular stilt walking butterfly and entertaining entomologist (insect expert), who has some tricks of his own up his sleeve.

The duo will be roaming the Park's Discovery Trail at intervals during the day, which is where guests can also meet and have a photo taken with popular character Chirpy Chick, who 'hatched' last year.

This year, the event is centred around native species and the Park's conservation team will be championing all the animals that call the UK home.

Guests can learn what they can do to help wildlife in their own gardens and they can also record what native species they see during their visit, by downloading the 'iNaturalist' or 'Seek' app.

PR & Events Executive, Bethan Davis, said, "With spring in the air, Easter is a fantastic time for families to reconnect with nature, and this year we wanted to shine a spotlight on the incredible native species found right here in the UK. Through our new characters and interactive activities, we're bringing these often-overlooked creatures to life in a fun, engaging way that we hope will inspire guests to appreciate and protect wildlife on their own doorstep."

Children will be able to win chocolate or a sweet treat by taking part in the Eggsplorers' Trail, by following clues, finding the bug-themed eggs and answering questions at each point.

There is a photo competition, where guests can win four Gold Annual Passes, if they find the butterfly photo point, take a picture and post it on their socials, tagging the Park.

In the Discovery Trail, guests will find a huge egg, filled with smaller eggs. If they can guess how many eggs it contains, they can enter the competition to win a Giraffe or Rhino Safari Lodges stay.

Bramble Bunny and his friend will be making a return in a brand-new show, bursting with magic, fun and games, plus plenty of audience participation.

The Easter Craft Club will also be returning, based in Bramble's Burrow, where guests can take part in some nature-themed arts and crafts.

During the event, the Park will be decorated with bright and colourful Easter theming, including giant eggs, hay bales, floral displays and photo points.

There is also the chance to see the Park's newest arrivals – giraffe calves Namara and Olive and male camel Jochi, as they explore their habitats on the Safari-Drive.

West Midlands Safari Park's Easter activities are included in the admission charge and guests are encouraged to book online in advance for the best prices. Children under the age of three are free.

Adventure Theme Park rides are charged extra. Admission includes a Free Return to visit again within six months, only when booking online in advance.

Tinker | Make | Play Engineers: Going From Playing Games to Powerful Inventions

This Easter, we want to celebrate the power of play by having a go at and supersizing good old family games, join playful hands-on engineering challenges and explore digital play too.

Coventry Transport Museum’s collection highlights how spending time playing about with ideas has led to automotive inventions. This Easter, we want to celebrate the power of play by having a go at and supersizing good old family games, join playful hands-on engineering challenges and explore digital play too.

TINKER away! With stuff, tools, your ideas and find out how things work, learn some tool skills and see where your curiosity will take you.

MAKE something! Anything! Use the huge variety of resources we offer. Get hands-on, creative and make your ideas (or our challenges) come true. Make something super big or really small and wow yourself and us too.

PLAY about! Push your imagination, raise your curiosity and simply play away. Whether you get into play mode during some maker challenges or in our playroom, we love seeing families at play.
