Summary

The Historic Environment Record at Warwickshire County Council were asked to prepare data and a report to inform the development of the Berkswell Neighbourhood Plan.

This document presents a summary of the data from the Solihull Historic Environment Record and includes information relating to:

- Designated sites (such as Scheduled Monuments, Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas)
- Monuments (Historic and Archaeological Sites)
- Events (Archaeological Activity)
- Historic Landscape Character
- Historic Maps
- Other aspects of the Historic Environment

Caveat:

It should be noted that this is a basic level summary of the historic environment for the neighbourhood plan area using only information held by the HER office. It is likely that further assessment of a wider range of sources, for example more detailed examination of records held by the Warwickshire County Record Office, aerial photographs held by the National Monuments Record, information on past disturbance across a site held by landowners, would further inform the understanding of this historic environment across the area.

Moreover, additional information may be received by the HER office in future, increasing our understanding of a particular area.

Designated Sites

Scheduled Monuments

Certain important archaeological sites are designated as Scheduled Monuments under the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979. Scheduling is at the discretion of the Secretary of State according to non-statutory criteria; by definition, Scheduled sites are sites of national importance. Scheduled sites are subject to stringent controls and formal consent is required for all works which would affect the significance of the site. There is a general presumption in favour of preservation in situ in respect of Scheduled sites.

There are two Scheduled Monuments in the neighbourhood plan area:

1003653: 15th century Packhorse Bridge crossing the River Blythe, the boundary between Berkswell into Hampton-in-Arden.

1018269: Churchyard cross in St John the Baptist's, Berkswell

Listed Buildings

The Secretary of State for the Department for Digital, Culture, Media and Sport (DCMS) maintains a list of buildings of 'special architectural or historic interest' under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990. This Act requires permission (Listed Building Consent) to be sought for any "demolition of a listed building or for its alteration or extension in any manner which would affect its character as a building of special architectural or historic interest" (para. 7) from the Local Planning Authority (para. 10).

The importance of the preserving these Listed Buildings and their settings is set out in paragraph 16 of this Act, which states 'In considering whether to grant listed building consent for any works the local planning authority or the Secretary of State shall have special regard to the desirability of preserving the building or its setting or any features of special architectural or historic interest which it possesses' (see also para. 66).

There are a number of Listed Buildings in the neighbourhood plan area, please see Appendix 1 for a map and Appendix 2 for a summary table.

In general most are found in the village of Berkswell with some in Carol Green and on the edge of Balsall Common while others consist of historic farmsteads throughout the neighbourhood plan area

Conservation Areas

Conservation areas are designated by the Local Planning Authority for the area, in this case Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council. There is one Conservation Area in the neighbourhood plan area being Berkswell Conservation Area (for a map of this see Appendix 1).

Locally Listed Buildings

Locally listed buildings are those designated by the Local Planning Authority for the area, in this case Solihull Metropolitan Borough Council.

See Appendix 1 for a map and Appendix 2 for a data table.

Monuments (Archaeological Sites and Monuments)

These are sites recorded on the Solihull Historic Environment Record (HER) that are archaeological or historic in nature and show evidence of human interaction in the area over time.

The following is a summary by period of the Monuments in the neighbourhood plan area, see also Appendix 1 for maps and Appendix 2 for data tables.

Prehistoric

Mesolithic

Some Mesolithic pits (MSI1963) dated by flint tools have been found at Meriden Quarry.

Neolithic

A series of cropmarks in the area (MSI6961, MSI5890, MSI10896, MSI8850, MSI8851 and MSI8800) may date as early as the Neolithic period but remain to be proven for their exact date.

Some probable Neolithic finds include a Palstave (MSI3054) and a Flint Scatter (MSI3055).

Iron Age

A possible hillfort is identified at Hampton Lane (MSI1678) while some Iron Age coins have been found south of Meriden (MSI9468)

Romano- British

Some Roman Brooches and a Roman coin have been found in the area (MSI1795, MSI1781, MSI1457, MSI1439)

Medieval (1066 – 1540)

Ridge and Furrow

Across the neighbourhood plan area there is evidence for a number of areas of ridge and furrow which may date back to the medieval period although much of it may be later in date and most of it has been levelled flat from 20th century ploughing. These are spread across the parish with a particular focus around the Berkswell village area.

Settlement

Medieval settlement is found at Berkswell (MSI85, MSI5817, MSI102, MSI101), Mercote (MSI1404, MSI1403) and Nailcote (MSI6406).

Moated settlement sites are known at Reeves Green (MSI1645), Benton Green (MSI4754), Ram Hall (MSI3133), Meriden (MSI3100), Carol Green (MSI3226), Mercote (MSI1658) and Moat Farm (MSI6016)

Other evidence of buildings dating to the medieval period can be found throughout the neighbourhood plan area including farm buildings, Windmills (MSI3225, MSI3124) and Watermills (MSI3110).

There is evidence of medieval or later charcoal manufacture just to the south and east of Four Oaks (MSI1356, MSI1357) with a further area just outside the parish (MSI1359)

A medieval Packhorse Bridge can be found crossing the River Blythe, the boundary between Berkswell into Hampton-in-Arden (MSI182). This is also a Scheduled Monument.

Berkswell Park, a medieval deer park (MSI3052)

There are also a number of findspots of medieval pottery and coins throughout the neighbourhood plan area

Post-Medieval (1540 – 1750)

The evidence in the post-medieval period is largely the continuing evidence for settlement in the main village and farmsteads as well as a number of halls and lodges (Berkswell Hall and Park (MSI1329) and Nailcote Lodge (MSI115))

Woodland is recorded within this period although it may date earlier from the medieval period (The Bogs (MSI4569), Siden Hill Wood (MSI4579), Millisons Wood (MSI4585), Slipperside Wood (MSI4587), Church Woods (MSI4570), Crow Wood (MSI4581), Spring Wood (MSI4583))

Air Raid Shelter (MSI8827)

Archaeological Events (Previous Archaeological Work)

1986:

ESI618 and ESI619 Barston Parish Survey. Area of field survey undertaken by Birmingham and Warwickshire Archaeological Society. Information about topography, land use, vegetation and any features within the fields were recorded. No finds were recovered.

1994:

ESI653 A pilot study of moats was conducted in the Solihull area by Birmingham Archaeology. The study aimed to identify all sites on the HER on the ground, research documentary evidence, identify new sites and enhance the HER to aid future protection of these sites.

1998:

ESI315 Mill Covert, Berkswell. Archaeological walkover survey by Cotswold Archaeology in response to an application to extend the quarry. No archaeological features were found.

2003:

ESI678 Archaeological Observation at the Church of St John the Baptist, Berkswell by Warwickshire Museum. Recording in advance of a new extension to the northwest of the north aisle. 42 gravestones were recorded within this area, 20 of which were removed before excavation work began. Groundworks outside the church uncovered sandstone wall foundations. Inside the church the bedding for a late medieval floor was found. Two service trenches were observed: numerous fragments of human bone were found, but there were no archaeological features or finds.

2006:

ESI676 Archaeological Observation at Moat Farmhouse, Truggist Lane, by Warwickshire Museum. Observation recorded three sections across the western arm of the moat. The dimensions recorded were: 3.7 - 4.4m wide and over 1.3m deep. Sherds dating to the 17th/18th century were found within the moat fill.

ESI693 Geophysical Survey at Meriden Quarry's Proposed Extension by Archaeological Surveys. A geophysical survey carried out over three areas, covering a total of 5.2ha on land to the west of Meriden. Low level magnetic anomalies uncovered.

2007:

ESI700 Evaluation on Land at Park Farm, Berkswell by Cotswold Archaeology. Evaluation of an area of proposed sand and gravel extraction. 20 trenches were evaluated across the initial working area and areas 1 and 2. Only modern boundary/drainage features were identified.

ESI674 Aggregates Resources National Mapping Programme Aerial Survey (Block 1) carried out by Warwickshire County Council. This Event was part of a larger project, "Assessing the Archaeology of Warwickshire's Aggregates Landscape" which aimed to characterise, digitally map, and subsequently analyse the archaeology associated with aggregate minerals in Warwickshire and Solihull.

ESI705 Archaeological evaluation at the Proposed Park Farm Pond by Cotswold Archaeology. 11 further trial trenches at Park Farm. Two undated ditches and two pits were found.

ESI725 Meriden Quarry, Cornets End Lane, Meriden: Archaeological Field-Walking by North Pennines Archaeology Ltd. Archaeological Field Walking survey on the Phase 1 Extension Area at Meriden Quarry. Although only a relatively small quantity of archaeological artefacts were recovered during the field-walking, evidence of prehistoric activity on the site was demonstrated by the presence of a single flint flake. Romano-British activity was also attested by the recovery of a single sherd of Greyware pottery. Also of interest was a concentration of daub-like material that was noted in the north-eastern corner of the site.

ESI754 Evaluation at Nailcote Hall Hotel, Berkswell by Archaeology Warwickshire. An evaluation was undertaken at Nailcote Hall Hotel, the site comprised two trial trenches.

ESI741 Archaeological geophysical survey at Nailcote Farm, Solihull by MOLA (Museum of London Archaeology). MOLA was commissioned to carry out a detailed magnetometer survey on the proposed site for a solar farm at Nailcote Farm, Nailcote Lane, Solihull. The survey identified extensive ridge and furrow, a number of historic field boundaries and various modern pipes and cables.

ESI763 Excavations at Meriden Quarry, Meriden, Phase 2 by Worcestershire County Council Archaeological Service. Archaeological investigations were carried out on Phase 2 of Meriden Quarry.

ESI764 and ESI765 Strip Map and Sample Excavations, Meriden Quarry, Phase 3, Cornets End Lane. Meriden by Worcestershire County Council Archaeological Service. Strip map and sample excavations took place on the southern part of phase 3 of Meriden Quarry.

2016:

ESI742 Trial trench evaluation on land at Kenilworth Road (north and south) Balsall Common by MOLA (Museum of London Archaeology). Archaeological trial trench evaluation works were undertaken on two areas of land at Kenilworth Road (north and south), Balsall Common. The work was undertaken in advance of proposed development of the land. No archaeological features or finds were encountered during the evaluation.

NMP (National Mapping Programme)

A piece of work mapping archaeological features identifiable on aerial photographs took place in 2007 for a block covering part of the neighbourhood plan area. See Appendix 1 for the map. All of the identified sites were added as Monuments to the HER but it is worth mentioning it does highlight the areas of ridge and furrow in that particular area, albeit nearly all of them levelled flat by modern ploughing. It also shows substantial area that do not appear to be covered in ridge and furrow and this may be both due to the nature of the aerial photography available for the area and also the fact this area is seen as probably being more wooded in the medieval period, part of the Arden landscape with semi-wooded area, dispersed settlement and pockets of agriculture.

Historic Landscape Character (HLC)

The Solihull area contains a variety of landscape types, from valleys, villages to the more wooded Arden with its more dispersed settlement, and the reclaimed heathland. They are what gives each locality within the area its own particular distinctiveness.

Historic landscape characterisation (HLC) is the process of understanding the character of the landscape in terms of historic environment by identifying patterns at landscape scale. HLC recognises that all landscapes are the result of historic processes, reflecting the ways in which human beings have interacted with and adapted their environment. It is a descriptive process, recognising and mapping landscape areas sharing similar characteristics according to broad type (e.g. settlement, fieldscape, woodland, industrial, designed landscape) and more detailed subtypes (within the category fieldscape, for example, there are a number of subtypes: meadow; planned enclosure, irregular, rectilinear etc.). Warwickshire County Council undertook its HLC project between 2006 and 2010 as part of a national programme supported by English Heritage (now Historic England).

By recognition of the wider historic environment, and its varying sensitivity to change, the capacity of different landscape types to absorb change may be assessed, and decisions can be made to preserve and enhance significant landscapes. It is recommended that Historic Landscape Character data be used and taken into account as part of site-specific desk-based assessment and evaluations.

The European Landscape Convention contains an obligation to 'integrate landscape into regional and town planning policies... as well as any other policies with possible direct or indirect impact on landscape' (article 5d), whilst in the National Planning Policy Framework the definition of Heritage Asset includes landscape.

HLC Summary

For a map of the HLC records see Appendix 1 and for a summary table see Appendix 2.

The area has quite a mixed historic landscape character but some areas with general characteristics can be seen. What follows is a summary based on broad type.

Fieldsapes

The majority of the neighbourhood plan areas falls into the fieldscape category showing a more rural character and while there is a mix of enclosure types across the area there are patterns that can be seen. To the south of the railway line the fieldscape is mainly planned enclosure probably 18th-19th century in date with a little patch of earlier piecemeal enclosure in the very south east.

North of the railway in the eastern part of the area the majority of the fieldsapes are very large post-war amalgamated fields with some pockets of piecemeal enclosure (possibly 16th-18th century in origin) around Carol Green and Four Oaks.

To the west can be found more rectilinear fields mixing into the floodplain of the river Blythe.

Interspersed throughout the neighbourhood plan area are small pockets of squatter enclosure and woodland clearance.

Settlement

The main settlement in the area is Berkswell Village and Balsall Common. The village is made up nearly entirely of an historic village core while the part of Balsall Common that falls into the neighbourhood plan area is nearly all later 20th century housing.

Most of the rest of the settlement in the area is dispersed in the form of historic farmsteads, small clusters of housing or country houses with a slight concentration in the south and east of the area reducing to become more dispersed in the north and west.

Woodland

The area has very little woodland with just a few small patches in the northern part such as Crow Wood, Rough Close, Spring Wood and to the west the Bogs and woodland that forms part of Berkswell Park.

Extraction

The area has some large sand and gravel extraction works in the north western part forming part of Meriden Quarry.

Designed Landscape

Berkswell Park is the dominant area of designed landscape in the area.
